Housed on the Safe Communities of Madison-Dane County website, the new Parent Addiction Network is for parents, families, and friends who have a loved one affected by drug addiction. This site can help find answers to the many questions that surround addiction, treatment, insurance, legal issues, recovery, and support. Designed for parents, the website has also become a valuable tool for social workers, law enforcement, educators, health care and treatment providers, as well as people seeking help for their own addictions.

To the Town of Montrose:

Second Harvest Foodbank is diligently working to contact people who can help to end hunger in southwest Wisconsin, especially focusing on the senior population. Not only does Second Harvest distribute food to food pantries, but we also build awareness around benefits that could really help people stretch their budgets. I am writing today to ask if you would be willing to include the short article attached to this email in your town newsletter or on your town website. If you have a bulletin board or another place in your office to post the attachment that would also be appreciated. So many people in the community need help, but are too ashamed to ask for it. Newsletters and websites are really effective ways that to get information to this difficult to reach population. Some clerks have included the article in a few consecutive newsletters and the repetition increased the number of people who called.

If you have any questions or concerns about the text, please don't hesitate to contact me. I sincerely hope we can count on your to help get this word to your community.

Ending hunger together,
